

WEBINAR: Financing Food and Rural Development

Presenting the SOFI Report 2024 and its implications for donors and development partners.

Thursday
26 September 2024
15.00 - 17.00 CET
on Zoom

CONCEPT NOTE

Thursday, 26 September 2024 | 15:00 – 17:00 p.m. CET | On Zoom

The Global Donor Platform for Rural Development (GDPRD) will host a virtual seminar and discussion on the State of Food Security and Nutrition in the World (SOFI) Report 2024 – Financing to End Hunger Food Insecurity and Malnutrition in All Its Forms and its implications for donors and development partners.

With only six years until 2030, the report draws urgent attention to the need for governments, donors, the private sector and other actors to accelerate and scale up financing and investments towards ending hunger, malnutrition and food insecurity.

The report highlights the fragmented and siloed nature of the financing architecture and calls for a more holistic approach. A new definition of financing for food security and nutrition is provided to help guide future investments. The report offers a comprehensive set of recommendations for reform and the use of innovative financing tools. It calls for enhanced transparency, coordination and harmonization among different actors to improve the effectiveness and targeting of financing to achieve SDG 2 (Zero Hunger).

Webinar objectives:

1. Provide an overview of the key messages and recommendations of the SOFI 2024 report.
2. Discuss the key challenges in operationalizing the recommendations of the report.
3. Discuss the implications of the report for partner/country governments, donors and development partners.
4. Discuss the implications of the report and its findings for the future of financing of food and rural development.

Format:

- Presentation on the SOFI 2024 by authors of the report from the Food and Agriculture Organization of the United Nations (FAO).
- Panel discussion with SOFI 2024 authors and representatives of government, donors and development finance partners.
- Q&A session and general discussion.